

DD39

VISIT A MUSEUM TODAY!

MUSEUMS LOS ANGELES

$4.95

June 6, Number 2
Winter 2005

- Who says the suburbs are boring? For Amir Zaki, it's all a matter of perspective—and digital alteration. Under his deft hand, images of Southern California's mundane landscapes and idyllic homes are transformed into monstrous and fantastic architectonic structures. Foster your own sense of "poetic entropy" in Spring Through Winter: Architectural Photography of Amir Zaki, on view at the MAK Center for Art and Architecture, January 7-February 19...